

JAMESTOWN COMMUNITY COLLEGE

State University of New York

INSTITUTIONAL COURSE SYLLABUS

Course Title: Introduction to Dis/Ability Studies

Course Abbreviation and Number: ANT 2550

Credit Hours: 3

Course Type: Lecture

Course Description: Students will explore both the medical model and the social model of what it means to be “able-bodied” and “disabled,” and the benefits and disadvantages of those labels for the people who bear them. Students will also compare and contrast the concepts of ability and disability for people living around the globe and understand the work of social activists in the disability community. Finally, we will address the new possibilities that are emerging in the form of technologies and medications, and what that means for access and identity.

Eligibility: ENG 1510 without supports or Corequisite: ENG 1510 with supports.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Students who demonstrate understanding can:

1. Describe the historical and contemporary societal factors that shape the development of diverse individual and group identities, including but not limited to race, class and gender.
 2. Analyze the role that social structures and systems play in the creation and perpetuation of power, privilege, oppression, and opportunity.
 3. Demonstrate an understanding of how the principles of rights, access, equity, and autonomy apply to social justice action, past, current, or future.
