ACTION NECESSARY: Based on the chart above, take one of the following actions (1 or 2):

1. If parent(s) marital status does not correspond to a possible tax filing status, explain the discrepancy between marital status and tax filing status on the line below, then sign and submit this form for review. Corrections to your FAFSA may be necessary, or we may require additional information. NOTE:
   a. If parents were married in 2018 and have since separated or divorced (prior to you filing the FAFSA), only income for the parent on the FAFSA should be reported on the FAFSA.
   b. If parent marital status has changed to “married” since 2018 and prior to filing your FAFSA, both parent and (step)parent income must be reported on the FAFSA.
   c. If parents are unmarried and living together, both parents income must be reported on FAFSA.

   Explain reason for difference between the FAFSA marital status and the 2018 tax return filing status:

   - OR –

2. If parent(s) marital status or tax filing status is incorrect on your 2020-21 FAFSA, make a correction to your FAFSA at studentaid.gov. If the correction you make resolves the issue, we will cancel the requirement when we receive the correction. You do not need to return this form if you correct the status on the FAFSA.
