About the Jamestown Campus

JCC's Jamestown Campus sits at the border of Jamestown and Falconer, NY, surrounded by James Ave. to the east, Falconer St. to the south, Curtis St. to the west, and College Park to the north.

Within campus and not separated by streets, buildings are connected by a sidewalk loop with a pond at its center. From the southeast corner starting at Hamilton Collegiate Center and going in a clockwise rotation, the order continues with Hillside Suites, Hultquist Library, Phys. Ed. Complex, Science Center, Carnahan Center, and Sheldon Center.

Also part of campus, but separated by streets:

- Manufacturing Technology Institute, between Falconer St. and parallel Second St. to the south of campus.
- Diethrick Park, off Falconer St. to the south of campus.
- College Park and RTPI, off Curtis St. to the north of campus.
